PART 1: STATEMENT OF FACTS

1. This action arises from a conspiracy to fix, raise, maintain, or stabilize prices of aluminum and tantalum electrolytic capacitors ("Capacitors"), used in electronic devices sold in Canada including British Columbia, and elsewhere. During the period commencing as early as January 1, 2005 to the present (the "Class Period"), the defendants and their senior executives participated in illegal and secret meetings and made agreements to fix the prices for Capacitors sold in Canada, including British Columbia, and elsewhere.

2. Capacitors are electrical components that serve as one of the fundamental building blocks of all electrical circuits. Virtually every electrical circuit contains one or more capacitor. Generally, a capacitor is used in an electric circuit to store electrical charge. Aluminum capacitors are typically used in larger electronics such as televisions, desktop and laptop computers and video game consoles. Tantalum capacitors are typically used in smaller electronics such as personal computers, mobile phones, smart phones and tablets.
3. During the Class Period, the plaintiff, Sara Ramsay, bought laptop computers and smartphones which contained Capacitors.

The Defendants

4. The defendants and other co-conspirators manufacture, market, distribute, and sell Capacitors in Canada, including in British Columbia.
5. The defendants and other co-conspirators agreed, combined, and conspired to inflate, fix, raise, maintain, or artificially stabilize prices of Capacitors.
6. The defendants and other co-conspirators are jointly and severally liable for the actions of, and the damages allocable to, their co-conspirators, including unnamed co-conspirators.
7. Where a particular entity within a corporate family of defendants engaged in anti-competitive conduct, it did so on behalf of all entities within that corporate family. The individual participants in the conspiratorial meetings and discussions entered into agreements on behalf of, and reported these meetings and discussions to, their respective corporate families.

8. Various persons, partnerships, sole proprietors, firms, corporations and individuals not named as defendants in this lawsuit, the identities of which are presently unknown, have participated as co-conspirators with the defendants in the unlawful behaviour alleged in this Notice of Civil Claim, and have performed acts and made statements in furtherance of the conspiracy or in furtherance of the anticompetitive conduct.

The Class and Class Period

51. This action is brought on behalf of members of the class (the "Class Members") consisting of the plaintiff and all British Columbia resident persons who, during the Class Period commencing as early as January 1, 2005 and continuing to the present, purchased a Capacitor or a product containing a Capacitor.

The Capacitors Industry

52. The defendants sold Capacitors, directly and indirectly, to original equipment manufacturers ("OEMs") who install capacitors directly into their products, electronic manufacturing service providers ("EMS Providers") who manufacture electric circuit products that contain Capacitors and are integrated into end-use products manufactured by others, third-party electronics distributors that sell capacitors to various consumers, and the Class Members, among others.
53. The structure of the Capacitors manufacturing industry is conducive to the conspiracy alleged in this Notice of Civil Claim. There are substantial barriers that preclude, reduce, or make more difficult entry into the Capacitors market. The market is subject to high manufacturing and technological barriers to entry.
54. There are no close substitutes for Capacitors. Capacitors are electronic components that serve as one of the fundamental building blocks of all types of electrical circuits. There is no alternative product that can replace Capacitors.

55. Capacitors are a commodity product that is interchangeable among the defendants. Capacitors of like technical and operational specification are mutually interchangeable.
56. By virtue of their market shares, the defendants and their co-conspirators are the dominant manufacturers and suppliers of Capacitors in Canada, including in British Columbia, and around the world.

The Conspiracy to Fix Prices of Capacitors

57. The acts alleged under this heading are, collectively, the “Conspiratorial Acts”.
58. During the Class Period, the defendants and unnamed co-conspirators conspired and/or agreed with each other to fix, maintain, increase, and control the price for the supply of Capacitors and/or to enhance unreasonably the prices of Capacitors and/or to lessen unduly competition in the sale of Capacitors in Canada including British Columbia and elsewhere.
59. During the Class Period, senior executives and employees of the defendants, acting in their capacities as agents for the defendants, engaged in communications, conversations, and attended meetings with each other at times and places, some of which are unknown to the plaintiff. As a result of the communications and meetings the defendants and unnamed co-conspirators unlawfully conspired and/or agreed to:
 - (a) unreasonably enhance the prices of Capacitors in Canada, including in British Columbia, and elsewhere;
 - (b) fix, maintain, increase, or control the prices of Capacitors in Canada, including in British Columbia, and elsewhere;
 - (c) monitor and enforce adherence to an agreed-upon pricing scheme for Capacitors; and

(d) lessen unduly competition in the sale of Capacitors in Canada, including in British Columbia, and elsewhere.

60. In furtherance of the conspiracy, during the Class Period, the defendants and/or their servants and agents:

(a) fixed, maintained, increased, controlled, and/or enhanced unreasonably the prices of Capacitors in Canada, including in British Columbia, and elsewhere;

(b) communicated secretly, in person and by telephone, to discuss and fix prices of Capacitors;

(c) made formal agreements with respect to the prices of Capacitors;

(d) exchanged information regarding the prices of Capacitors for the purposes of monitoring and enforcing adherence to the agreed-upon prices;

(e) allocated sales, territories, customers or markets for supply of Capacitors;

(f) fixed, maintained, controlled, prevented or lessened the supply of Capacitors; and

(g) disciplined any conspirator which failed to comply with the conspiracy.

61. During the Class Period and continuing to the present, the defendants and/or their servants and agents took active steps to, and did, conceal the unlawful conspiracy from the Class Members.

62. The defendants were motivated to conspire and their predominant purposes and predominant concerns were to harm the plaintiff and other Class Members by requiring them to pay unlawfully high prices for Capacitors.

63. The Conspiratorial Acts alleged in this claim to have been done by each defendant were authorized, ordered, and done by each defendant's officers, directors, agents, employees, or representatives while engaged in the management, direction, control, or transaction of its business affairs.

Damages

64. As a result of the Conspiratorial Acts:
- (a) the prices of Capacitors have been, directly or indirectly, enhanced unreasonably and/or fixed at artificially high and non-competitive levels; and
 - (b) competition in the sale of Capacitors has been lessened.
65. During the Class Period, the Class Members purchased Capacitors both directly and indirectly. By reason of the alleged violations of the Competition Act, RSC 1985, c 19 (2nd Suppl.) (the "Competition Act") and the common law, the plaintiff and the other Class Members have been overcharged for Capacitors by paying more than they would have paid in the absence of the illegal conspiracy and, as a result, the plaintiff and the other Class Members have suffered damages (the "Overcharge").
66. The Overcharge is capable of being quantified on an aggregate basis as the difference between the actual prices for Capacitors and the prices which would have been paid in the absence of the unlawful conspiracy. The defendants are jointly and severally liable for the Overcharge.

PART 2: RELIEF SOUGHT

67. The plaintiff, on her own behalf, and on behalf of the Class Members, claims against the defendants:
- (a) a declaration that the defendants, and each of them, conspired each with the other to raise, maintain, fix, and stabilize the price of Capacitors during the Class Period, in violation of statutory, common law, and equitable laws as alleged in this claim;

- (b) a declaration that the defendants, and each of them, conspired, combined, agreed or arranged to prevent or lessen, unduly, competition in the manufacture or production of Capacitors or to enhance unreasonably the price of Capacitors;
- (c) an order certifying this action as a class proceeding against the defendants and appointing the plaintiff as representative plaintiff in respect of the Class Members;
- (d) general damages for conspiracy and unlawful interference with economic interests;
- (e) a declaration that the defendants account for and make restitution to the plaintiff and the other Class Members in an amount equal to the Overcharge;
- (f) a declaration that the defendants have each been unjustly enriched by the receipt of the Overcharge an order that the defendants disgorge and make restitution of the Overcharge;
- (g) judgment in the amount of the Overcharge;
- (h) general damages for conduct that is contrary to Part VI of the Competition Act;
- (i) punitive damages;
- (j) an injunction enjoining the defendants from conspiring or agreeing with each other, or others, to raise, maintain, fix, or stabilize the price of Capacitors;
- (k) costs of investigation and prosecution of this proceeding pursuant to section 36 of the Competition Act;

- (l) pre-judgment and post-judgment interest pursuant to the Court Order Interest Act, RSBC 1996, c 78, s 128; and
- (m) such further and other relief as to this Honourable Court may seem just.

PART 3: LEGAL BASIS

68. The plaintiff pleads and relies upon the Class Proceedings Act, RSBC, 1996 c 50, the Competition Act, and the Court Jurisdiction and Proceedings Transfer Act, RSBC 2003, c 28 (the "CJPTA").

Causes of Action

Breach of the Competition Act

69. The Conspiratorial Acts are in breach of section 45 of Part VI of the Competition Act, as amended from time to time, caused injury to the plaintiff and the other Class Members and render the defendants jointly and severally liable to pay damages and costs of investigation pursuant to section 36 of the Competition Act. Further, the Canadian subsidiaries of the foreign defendants are jointly and severally liable to the plaintiff and the other Class Members pursuant to s. 36 of the Competition Act for acts in contravention of s. 46(1) of the Competition Act.

Civil Conspiracy

70. Further, or alternatively, the Conspiratorial Acts were unlawful acts directed towards the plaintiff and the other Class Members, which unlawful acts the defendants knew in the circumstances would likely cause injury to the plaintiff and other Class Members and, as such, the defendants are jointly and severally liable for the tort of civil conspiracy. Further, or alternatively, the predominant purpose of the Conspiratorial Acts was to injure the plaintiff and other Class Members, and the defendants are jointly and severally liable for the tort of conspiracy to injure.
71. The plaintiff and other Class Members suffered damages as a result of the defendants' conspiracy.

Unlawful Means Tort

72. Further, or alternatively, the Conspiratorial Acts were unlawful acts intended to cause the plaintiff and the other Class Members economic loss as an end in itself or as a necessary means of enriching the defendants.
73. The Conspiratorial Acts were unlawful under the laws of the jurisdictions where the Conspiratorial Acts took place and are actionable by third parties, including OEMs, EMS Providers and third-party electronics distributors located outside of British Columbia who directly purchased Capacitors, or would be actionable by those third parties if those third parties had suffered a loss. As such, the defendants are jointly and severally liable for the unlawful means tort.
74. The plaintiff and the other Class Members suffered damages as a result of the defendants' unlawful means tort and each of the defendants is jointly and severally liable to pay the resulting damages.

Unjust Enrichment and Waiver of Tort

75. Further, and in the alternative, the plaintiff and the other Class Members are entitled to claim and recover based on equitable and restitutionary principles.
76. The defendants have each been unjustly enriched by the receipt of the Overcharge. The plaintiff and the other Class Members have suffered a corresponding deprivation in the amount of such Overcharge.
77. Since the Overcharge that was received by the defendants from the plaintiff and the Class Members resulted from the defendants' wrongful or unlawful acts, there is and can be no juridical reason justifying the defendants retaining any part of it.
78. Equity and good conscience require the defendants to make restitution to the plaintiff and the other Class Members of all of the Overcharge and/or disgorge that amount to the plaintiff and the other Class Members.
79. Further, or alternatively, the plaintiff waives the tort and elects to pursue restitutionary remedies against the defendants as set out above.

Punitive Damages

80. The plaintiff asserts that the defendants' conduct was high-handed, outrageous, reckless, wanton, entirely without care, deliberate, callous, disgraceful, wilful, in contumelious disregard of the plaintiff's rights and the rights of the Class Members, and as such renders the defendants liable to pay aggravated and punitive damages.

Jurisdiction

81. There is a real and substantial connection between British Columbia and the facts alleged in this proceeding. The plaintiff and other Class Members plead and rely upon the CJPTA in respect of the defendants. Without limiting the foregoing, a real and substantial connection between British Columbia and the facts alleged in this proceeding exists pursuant to sections 10 (f) – (i) of the CJPTA because this proceeding:

- (a) concerns restitutionary obligations that, to a substantial extent, arose in British Columbia;
- (b) concerns a tort committed in British Columbia;
- (c) concerns a business carried on in British Columbia; and
- (d) is a claim for an injunction ordering a party to do or refrain from doing anything in British Columbia.

ENDORSEMENT ON ORIGINATING PLEADING OR PETITION FOR SERVICE OUTSIDE BRITISH COLUMBIA

The plaintiff, Sara Ramsay, claims the right to serve this pleading on the defendants, outside British Columbia on the ground that there is a real and substantial connection between British Columbia and the facts alleged in this proceeding and the plaintiff and other Class Members plead and rely upon the CJPTA in respect of these defendants. Without limiting the foregoing, a real and substantial connection between British Columbia and the facts alleged in this proceeding exists pursuant to ss.10 (f) –(i) of the CJPTA because this proceeding:

- (f) concerns restitutionary obligations that, to a substantial extent, arose in British Columbia;
- (g) concerns a tort committed in British Columbia;
- (h) concerns a business carried on in British Columbia; and
- (i) is a claim for an injunction ordering a party to do or refrain from doing anything in British Columbia.

Rule 7-1 (1) of the Supreme Court Civil Rules states:

- (1) Unless all parties of record consent or the court otherwise orders, each party of record to an action must, within 35 days after the end of the pleading period,
 - (a) prepare a list of documents in Form 22 that lists
 - (i) all documents that are or have been in the party's possession or control and that could, if available, be used by any party at trial to prove or disprove a material fact, and

(ii) all other documents to which the party intends to refer at trial, and

(b) serve the list on all parties of record.
